Theodorus of Abyssinia

The Times of India publishes a long paper written by Dr Blanc It is dated Magdala August 31st 186[illegible] and contains a complete account of the varying fortunes of the party of which he was one [illegible] to [illegible] the letter of Queen Victoria and which left Aden July 20th [illegible] The closing portion of the document will be read with interest

Theodorus is about forty eight years of age and darker than many of his countrymen His black eyes are slightly depressed the nose straight the mouth large the lips small He is well knit a splendid horseman excels in the use of the spear and on foot will tire his sharpest followers When in a [illegible] humor the expression of his face is pleasing his smile attractive his manners courteous—really kingly but when in anger his aspect is frightful His black face acquires an ashy hue his eyes bloodshot and fierce, seem to shed fire his thin lips compressed have but a whitish margin round the mouth his very hair seems to stand erect and his whole deportment is that of savage and ungovernable fury As [illegible] Kassa (nephew of the celebrated Dejaj Komfou Governor of Western Abyssinia) he rose in rebellion against Ras Ali—threats promises even such a bribe as his daughter being of no avail The Ras was compelled to send armies after armies to subdue the brave young chieftain Kassa however born a warrior and a conqueror drove them like sheep from the province he had proclaimed his own and seeing in the young and debauched Ras Ali a despicable rival attacked him and forced him to seek safety in flight Left undisputed master of the Amhara he turned his victorious arms against the sovereigns of Gojam Shoa and Tigray His name his courage and his cunning were invincible and in 1854 without a rival King of the Kings of Abyssinia he was crowned at Axum under the name of Theodorus Whilst only a pretender to the crown he had conceived the idea of conquering for himself the [illegible] He descended from the Abyssinian Alps and led his host to the hot but fertile plains of Galabat He had yet to learn what a handful of disciplined troops can do against disorderly masses At Kassala about 500 Turkish irregulars forced the wounded and humbled Theodorus to retrace his steps toward the mountain fastnesses Arrived at the pinnacle of his fortune Theodorus never forgot the dreams of his younger days Kassala Sennar and the rich provinces they protect were then more than ever prizes he must win Still, he remembered his defeat and in order to better secure his object proposed to the sovereigns of England and France a crusade against the infidels This rage for foreign conquest was the cause of his ruin, and in many respects our own misfortunes To invade with any hope of success a land protected by well trained soldiers Theodorus' plan was to overwhelm the enemy by the numerosity of his host consequently until the time for action should arrive he kept on foot an army of at least 100 000 fighting men To feed and otherwise supply this force amounting to 200 000 or 300 000 in [illegible] camp followers he [illegible] the nation Discontent was soon followed by open rebellion which broke out in several remote provinces and though Theodorus marched against the rebels and destroyed to the utmost the land and its inhabitants he failed to put down the passive resistance of the peasant When Theodorus was a candidate for power he was brave generous, pious and just and led a moral and sober life Ambition achieved either altered his nature or brought to light his many vices It was not long before the crowned Emperor proved himself more cruel and more treacherous than any of his countrymen, more bloodthirsty more regardless of human life than any other being that not only Abyssinia but the world at large ever produced Famines epidemics and desertion soon reduced his army rebellion spread far and wide one by one he lost all the jewels of his crown and at the present day the great conqueror of Abyssinia the really remarkable man is nothing more than a robber chief a wholesale cruel murderer without country, army or friends Of all the Abyssinian empire some time ago crouching and trembling at his feet he now retains only a few ambas his very camp is pitched in the midst of his mortal foes Mad with rage and despair his cruelty knows no bounds his best friends his staunchest supporters his slavish followers his enemies all alike fall victims to his fury He destroyed by fire the sacred churches and cast into the flames aged priests and young maidens He killed or loaded with fetters his friends and his chiefs he tortured to death his adopted father, caroused in blood ruined whole provinces by fire and the sword Still the poor cowardly slaves trembled and obeyed but when at last he added to all these atrocities the murder of 600 of his own soldiers—the men from Wadela—a cry of horror re-echoed throughout the land the cup filled to the brim overflowed, and driven to despair soldiers deserted en masse and the peasants armed preferring death on the battlefield to his sway the quiet of the grave to constant fear and misery We are not the first white men he has ill used and ill treated long ago he gave vent to his hatred of our race The Coptic Patriarch he insulted and imprisoned the Turkish Ambassador Abul Rahmad Bey he imprisoned and plundered the French Consul M Le Jean he chained detained and at last kicked out of the country Nothing came of this the insults were not resented and Theodorus believed himself beyond the reach of retributive justice On the next occasion he went a step further The pious and learned missionary the Rev Mr Stern was almost beaten to death by his orders and heavily chained Captain Cameron and all the Europeans in the country with the exception of a few that worked for him were shortly afterwards loaded with fetters dragged from prison to prison tortured starved, left naked for days—a tale of suffering and cruelty unequalled in the annals of history Even Abyssinians bad as they are cannot justify his conduct toward us Messengers have at all times been held sacred in this country and we are the first that have been subjected to such harsh treatment "There is no God in Abyssinia" said one of the chiefs to me [illegible] if he allows Theodorus to live after burning the churches, and keeping in prison messengers of a friendly Queen At present August [illegible] our situation is most critical We know not in the morning what the evening may bring The Emperor daily riots in blood and murder anarchy rules supreme After the rains it is possible that some of Theodorus' rivals will join the peasants in arms take the field and contest the power they see falling from his hands But will they have courage to attack the wounded lion himself? I doubt it They all boast when he is far but the mere mention of his name fly to their strongholds and leave the deluded peasants to [illegible] his rage and vengeance But he himself cannot last much longer the peasants though they dare not face him will murder every soldier they come upon The army will dwindle and dwindle down to nothing and his last hope all his ambas will eventually fall into the hands of some rising man What our fate may be in a few months I dare not say helpless [illegible] in the center of a hostile nation who hate the white men who would rejoice and glory if they could murder them we have indeed but a poor chance if we fall into the hands of the ignorant and infuriated peasantry Should some great man take this amba, how will he treat us? It is impossible to say—most probably try to make capital out of us Would he let us go? Certainly not why should he? We have full confidence that our difficult position will call forth the sympathies of our Queen and country and that before many months honor and justice will prevail over cruelty and treachery

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

TRINITY CENTRE Feb 25—The past week has been one incessant storm and it is still storming From three to five feet of snow yet remain on the ground and is so soft as to render all efforts at traveling almost useless All the streams and rivers have been very high On Clear creek about two miles of telegraph line is washed away and about the same distance of the stage road is gone Cottonwood and Clear creeks between Shasta and Red Bluff have been impassable for a week

No stage has arrived at Shasta from the South since the 18th No communication of any kind south of Shasta since that date The Sacramento river opposite Shasta was four feet higher than ever before known Fears are entertained that the country is flooded below

FROM PUGET SOUND.

We obtain the following items from the Olympia Transcript of the 22d

We learn that an officer came up on the last California steamer bringing orders for the total abandonment of Fort Steilacoom The troops will leave on the next steamer from below and be taken by her to Sitka The post is to be broken up immediately and everything movable taken with the troops even the windows and doors and the remainder sold at public auction The post was established in 1849, and is well furnished with every convenience of a military station—the only one in this region designed for a full regiment It is one of the most pleasantly located forts on the coast situated however on the 18 mile square tract of land claimed by the Puget Sound Company and to which it has paid a regular tribute we believe of $50 per month for the privilege of being so situated

Messrs Ward Mitchell & Cooper, who have recently purchased the whole of the Upper Mills property at Tumwater intend in a few months to erect a new saw mill on the site of the present one It is proposed to build a good structure—new from the foundation up—and one capable of doing the business required by the public The old mill has done good service in its day—having been built in the summer of 1857—but the necessities of the times demand something better, and so the old mill must be consigned to dust and forgetfulness

An Illinoian named Benham a carpenter formerly in the employ of the O S N Company, who has been wandering about our streets most of the winter became so deranged that the authorities sent him to the Insane Asylum at Monticello on Wednesday for temporary keeping, until he is taken away by the authorities of Oregon, he being a citizen of that state

[illegible] has resigned his position as sub agent at the Skokomish Indian Reservation his resignation to take effect on the first of March

It seems that the horses are dying of the blind staggers all over the country In Chehalis county at Elma several have died Marcel Burnett on the Newaukum, has lost all he had, Grainger & Davis two or three and a number of the farmers in Lewis county have lost their best ones In some parts of Oregon they are dying the same way From the many opinions concerning this disease we judge the causes of it are not fully understood at least we hear of no remedy of it

The Newark Steam Man

[FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE INVENTION
From the Newark (N J) Advertiser 24th]

Few men have been more talked of or wondered at during the past fortnight than Mr Deddrick's steam man—certainly none in as short an existence have become so widely famous Many persons incredulously received the story of its creation and ridiculed the idea of an iron man moved by machinery Several accidents in experimenting, persuaded others that the project was only visionary, and could never become an available power A few practical machinists however sympathizing with Mr Deddrick were confident of success Their hopes have been realized and now the wonderful piece of mechanism if it could but speak would undoubtedly exclaim Homo sum The delays that were experienced in introducing his majesty to the public were occasioned by weakness of the knees, brought on perhaps by over excitement in view of the trial to which he was to be subjected

The old spiral springs which we described as being necessary to throw the foot forward have been superseded by stronger ones of more simple construction Yesterday steam was generated and he (or it?) performed to the entire satisfaction of admiring friends Last night a trial trip was made through Broad street to Crump's garden opposite Military Park where the machine will be exhibited to the public during the coming week Mr Deddrick has been almost besieged by the calls of the curious and floods of letters have poured in from all parts of the country

A crowd of Newarkers the day after the publication of the description of the invention in our columns thronged the door way and effectually darkened the windows of the shop threatening to deter the machinists from completing their work A large United States flag which some enthusiastic individual has presented to the inventor, has been arranged so as to allow the "man" some privacy and the besiegers are dropping off in their attentions One day last week a committee of five gentleman called upon Mr Deddrick to decide a bet as to whether there was any reality in the thing as it was thought by some that it was only a newspaper hoax Nearly fifty letters asking for further information, have been received Some contain orders for men and propositions for territorial rights for the manufacture and sale of them

A gentleman from Chicago thinks the affair is just what is needed for work upon the prairies and level lands of the west and proposes that it be allowed to walk to Chicago as the sensation produced would eclipse Weston's in his pedestrian trip Other parties make equally encouraging propositions Some are exceedingly facetious A person in Pennsylvania wants a male and female that he may stock his place

Among the letters are five from ladies pretending to be in search of husbands One gentleman wants a lady made to order but the inventor ungallantly replied that as his creatures do not talk, he is doubtful whether a woman would be a success

The London Times publishes an interesting letter in regard to the discoveries in progress at Jerusalem, from which we select the following

The colossal foundations of the temple wall which are stones of ten cubits and stones of eight cubits laid by Solomon or his successors on the throne are now being laid bare at the enormous depth of ninety feet and more beneath the present surface The bridge that once spanned the ravine between the palace on Zion and Moriah is now proved to be upwards of one hundred and fifty feet high If this be as it seems the ascent to the house of the Lord which Solomon showed to the Queen of Sheba, we cannot wonder that on seeing it there was no spirit in her The pinnacle of the temple on which the tempter placed the Saviour has just been uncovered to the base and is found still to have an elevation of one hundred and thirty six feet The statement of Josephus is therefore no exaggeration If any looked from the battlements into the valley he would be giddy while his sight could not reach to such an immense depth Sections of the ancient wall of Ophel have been exhumed, showing that as Josephus says it was joined to the southeast angle of the Temple Aqueducts, cisterns rock hewn channels and passages have also been discovered within and around the harem throwing new light on the buildings, the arrangements and the services of the Temple

The great work of a complete exploration of ancient Jerusalem is thus fairly and auspiciously commenced The opportune visit of the Sultan and grand vizier of this country and the representations made to them by the Archbishop of York followed up as they have been by the energy the wisdom and tact of Lieut Warren and his admirable staff have [illegible] Moslem pre[illegible] [illegible] Arab laborers have been trained to the work and are eager to be employed and the exact points for successful exploration are now well known

Union Club at East Portland

Pursuant to notice the Union men of East Portland assembled at the school house in that place, for the purpose of forming a Union Grant Club. The meeting having come to order, on motion, F. A Clark was appointed temporary Chairman, and Dr J M Mack Secretary The meeting was then addressed by Messrs Mason and Gov. Gibbs Their able patriotic and stirring speeches were listened to by an appreciative and intelligent audience Much enthusiasm prevailed, and the speakers were frequently greeted with heart-felt cheers After they had closed, several Union men present made short and spirited speeches, after which on motion a committee of three was appointed to draft resolutions expressing the sentiments of the meeting The following report and resolutions were then offered

Your committee appointed to draft resolutions respectfully report that they recommend the adoption of the following resolutions

Resolved That we are in favor of maintaining the Union so nobly defended and preserved by the sacrifices and blood of our patriotic soldiers in the field, and true Union men at home and in the Legislative halls and of maintaining unimpaired the Constitution as the surest means to secure civil and religious liberty

Resolved That we are in favor of [illegible] civil governments in the States lately in rebellion at the earliest practical moment under the [illegible]struction policy of Congress

Resolved, That the efforts of the Democratic party to re-establish the foul system of human slavery in the United States, and its [illegible] to destroy the national credit by repudiating the national debt and thereby impoverishing those who furnished means to assist the Government in its hour of peril when demons in human form [illegible] their traitor hands against the best Government known on earth, meet with our hearty condemnation

Resolved That we pledge ourselves as lovers of our common country and its free institutions, to support the Union ticket at the coming [illegible], both State and national, as the surest way of preserving our liberties and transmitting them unimpaired to our posterity

Resolved That we will support the patriotic citizen and hero, U S Grant, a man whom all good citizens delight to honor, for our next President, and Schuyler Colfax for Vice President and that we will "fight it out on that line."

J M MACK,
I T ALLEN,
Committee.

The resolutions on motion, were adopted unanimously and were signed by all the members of the Club On motion F A Clark was elected President and H Cason, Vice President of the Club for the ensuing campaign On motion, Mr. Bones was appointed Secretary, H. Williams Assistant Secretary and H Johnson Treasurer.

On motion, J M Mack, J T Allen, and Milton Hosford were appointed to act as [illegible] Committee and Committee of Arrangements.

The thanks of the meeting were voted to Messrs Mason and Gibbs and others, for their excellent and patriotic speeches and [illegible] of good cheer

The meeting then adjourned, after giving three rousing cheers for Grant and Colfax

525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT, ARE NOW COMPLETED.

THIS BRINGS THE LINE TO THE [illegible] of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January The [illegible] grade from the foot of the mountains to the [illegible] is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of [illegible] roads is over one hundred. Work in the [illegible] on the western slope will continue through the [illegible] and there is now no reason to doubt that the [illegible] line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States [illegible] its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile for which it takes a [illegible] lien as [illegible], and receives payment to a large if not to the full [illegible] of its claim in services. These bonds are [illegible] as each [illegible] mile section is finished, and after it has been [illegible] by the United States Commissioners and [illegible] to be in all respects a first-class road, thoroughly [illegible] with depots, repair-shops stations, and all the [illegible] rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a [illegible] of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and [illegible] large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount [illegible] to the issue of the Government and no more Hon E D Morgan and Hon Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses so that they always represent an actual and productive value

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and, as there will be no competition it can always be done at profitable rates

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work built under the supervision of Government officers and to a large extent with Government money and that its bonds are [illegible] Government direction It is believed that no [illegible] security is so carefully guarded and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property As the Company's are offered for the present at 90 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, IN U S CURRENCY, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent lower than U S. Stocks. They pay

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD, or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment Subscriptions will be received in Portland by United States Civil Service.

An article from the North American Review for October last, on the Civil Service of the United States, has been issued in a pamphlet form by the publishers of that periodical, in order to give it a wider circulation and to bring the subject it treats into more general attention. The evils which have grown up under the present system of office-getting and office-holding are felt very severely by the country; for though very many men who hold public offices are both honest and capable, the inefficient and fraudulent practices of others, the effects of which are witnessed more conspicuously in the revenue service than any where else, shows how great is the need for the adoption of a different system. These evils in the public service of the country grew up to a great extent under the influence of sham-Democratic and Slave State supremacy. Until 1861, when the Democratic party was dispossessed of power, the main test of qualifications for public office was sympathy with the Southern policy, and any who could respond to the shibboleths of party, no matter how small their capacity or low their attainments, stood in the line for official appointment or regular promotion. So long had this been practiced, that it had come to be considered the established policy of the country that any that wants in the public service should be parceled out as party favors, without reference to the fitness for duty of those who received them. There was no system of competitive examination whereby the comparative merits of applicants could be ascertained; those only were accepted who gave proof of their devotion to Southern [illegible] and satisfactory proof of fidelity in this [illegible] was all that was required. "The outbreak of the rebellion," says the article in the Review, "was promoted to a great extent by wrong men in wrong places; by faithless and [illegible] public officers at home and abroad, by a demoralization of the public service, which was at the same time the cause and the effect of treasonable [illegible] and the debasement of appointments [illegible] the effect [illegible]." Without this organized system, the rebellion could never have attained the scope and power which it was found to have reached at the very moment it began.

It depends wholly on the Union or Republican party to reform the abuses which have grown up in the public service. This, as a great progressive [illegible], devolves on that party. If the Democratic party should again obtain control of the country, it would follow in its old track. Therefore if further reform is accomplished, it must come through the agency of those who have [illegible] civilization of the degrading system of slavery, who have annihilated the pretence of the "Democracy" that ours is not a National Government and that it has no right to use force to perpetuate its existence, and who have exploded and [illegible] a multitude of other pernicious heresies that grew up in the days of Democratic ascendancy. For reform, the party of progress and reform must be looked to; nothing can be expected from the retrogradists. If there are workers in any line of reform who are dissatisfied with the Union Republican party, let them ask themselves what they would have to expect for the cause they represent by invoking the aid of the "Democracy."

The article in the Review strongly urges the adoption of a system of competitive examination for [illegible] in the civil service. Those who obtain commissions in the army are obliged to pass satisfactory examinations, and give proof of their ability and attainments. The same amount of intelligence which distinguishes all other avenues of American activity would appear in the civil service, under a system which would at once call out and reward true business capacity. "As the service gained in efficiency its cost would diminish, inasmuch as ten competent persons, fairly compensated, might easily do the work of a hundred incompetent persons at low salaries. Indeed, it is estimated by a high authority that a saving of millions of dollars might in this manner be effected annually." A review of the systems practised in other countries shows that there is hardly a civilized nation except the United States without a system of examination and promotion in the dispensation of its public offices. But it should be remarked that the civil service systems of other countries have only recently emerged from their [illegible] and chaotic condition. This has been done by employing the capable, rejecting the incompetent and adopting a system which fixes responsibility on every person occupying a position under the Government.

Advices from England tell sad stories of suffering among the poor of that country. The stagnation of industry has affected the classes who are dependent on their labor for their daily support, and tens of thousands are out of employment and in want of bread. In a single district of London, over 12,000 persons, who have hitherto supported themselves by their labor, are compelled to rely on the scanty relief of gratuitous charity, and in another quarter no less than 70,000 souls who have been dependent on their wages in the ship-yards are in a starving condition. In this country, industry is also disorganized, but the condition of our people is far better than that of any other portion of the world. Will those who have been ascribing the decline of business in America to the tariff and other measures of the "dominant party," tell what is the matter with England? Will those who have been lamenting the decline of ship-building in this country, and attributing it to the [illegible] policy, explain why the ship-yards of London have been abandoned?

The editor of the Record says he has visited several of the most important towns in the valley during the last month, and has everywhere been assured that the circulation of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN has been almost doubled within the past few weeks. This is true; the circulation of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is now far larger than it ever was before, and of course very much larger than that of any other paper published in Oregon. We are thankful to friends for their appreciation and remembrance, and shall labor in future, as heretofore, to give them the best paper in the State.

A Pretty Record.

An unusually interesting paper, and one well worth preserving, is that number of the Chicago Times—"the great Democratic paper of the Northwest,"—which contains the proceedings of the Chicago Convention of 1864. The speeches delivered on that interesting occasion, in the Convention as well as at the mass meetings which were held in the streets, have about them a flavor of Confederate Democracy which time can never destroy. Twenty or thirty thousand Democrats were assembled from all parts of the country, including all the noted orators and leaders of the party; and the Times says that "peace was the watchword of every speaker," and "their earnest oratory showed that their denunciations of the Administration—though they might at times be unpolished—proceeded directly from the heart." There cannot be a doubt of it. The nature of these "denunciations" which "proceeded directly from the heart," is fully revealed in the speeches which the Times has so unfortunately preserved against its party. Vallandigham was there, and he declared in a speech to a multitude gathered in Court House Square that a "Government which is founded on the consent of the governed repudiates the idea of coercion and arms." This was the Democratic doctrine of that time, and it was universally held by the party. Because our Government is founded on the consent of the governed, it was held that it could govern only with the consent of the disobedient. Vallandigham thereupon proclaimed that "coercion by force was contrary to the very idea on which our Federal Union was founded,"—an expression almost exactly similar to that which was used on many occasions in 1864 by an insignificant rebel who conducted a paper in San Francisco, and who is now editor of a Copperhead journal in Oregon. Fernando Wood was there, and in one of his speeches elegantly remarked that "we have had war, we have had administration, desolation, emancipation and damnation, and now we propose to apply the remedy—to administer the antidote—peace." Richardson of Illinois denounced the "hireling soldiery" of the country, compared them with the "Hessians whom the King of England hired to come here to fight us," and declared that "you cannot win victories with hired soldiers." McMasters, of the New York Freeman's Journal, asserted that "a man who is in favor of this unnatural war insults the holy name of Democracy when he claims a place in its organization. He is a Judas, and should be cast out as an enemy to humanity and to God. War and blood is the legitimate business of the Lincoln minion. We wash our hands clean of all participation in it." Sunset Cox of Ohio, exhorted the people "to join in the grand determination to remove the despot from the place he was unworthy to fill,"—an exhortation of a kind which frequently appeared in those times, and which incited Wilkes Booth to his bloody deed. H. S. Orton, of Wisconsin, indirectly counseled resistance to the draft, saying that "under its pressure we have got to a realizing sense that we have got nearly to the last ditch, the last man and the last dollar." Stambaugh, a delegate from Ohio, said that if he was called on to elect between the freedom of the nigger, and disunion and separation, he should choose the latter." And as if anticipating the present policy of his party, he declared that "when the war was over, he would not give a pinch of snuff for the 5-20s and 10-40s now hoarded by the rich." Roneyn, of New York, declared that in prosecuting the war, Mr. Lincoln "had violated the rights of the States and the sacred rights of man." Reed, of Indiana, was of opinion that "if the draft were not enforced, there would be peace. He advised his hearers to shoot down those who would enforce the draft, and to openly arm themselves that they might be prepared for horrible contingencies." Captain Rynders, of New York, "said it with pride, that he had never said one word against the brave, the noble, the generous, the chivalrous people of the South, and he trusted in God he never would." Long, of Ohio, offered a resolution to appoint a committee to wait on President Lincoln to demand a suspension of the draft. Hon. Allen, of New York, made a speech of encouragement to Wilkes Booth by declaring that "if the people could not put Lincoln out by the ballot they would by the bullet." Mr. Van Allen, of the same State asserted that "the great mistake of the Democracy was that they did not resist the war from the beginning." W. W. O'Brien, of Illinois, was severe on men "who called themselves Democrats; men who for the sake of power, place or pelf, went into the business of murder, and soaking their hands in fraternal blood, hold them up and say 'Behold our loyalty.' They are not Democrats—they are Abolitionists; and we will bury them in the same grave with the Abolitionists and damn them to eternal infamy." Chauncey Burr, editor of the Old Guard, "the only Democratic magazine in the United States," declared that the "South was fighting for her honor," and that "if he had ever uttered a prayer, it was that not one of the States should ever be conquered or subjugated." These are specimens from some of the speeches delivered on the occasion; all the rest were in the same order. We might quote columns of the same kind, but these extracts will be sufficient to revive a lively recollection of what "Democracy" was in 1864. Not one word was said in the Convention or the street meetings against the crime of treason and rebellion; not a word was uttered against those who were traitorously in arms against the country. Of course it will not be doubted that the spirit of the Democratic party was fairly represented by its utterances at its National Convention. Isn't this a pretty record for a party that aspires to the helm of the nation?

WHO ARE DISFRANCHISED?—The present law of Congress disfranchises only a small number comparatively, of those who engaged in the rebellion. It does not disfranchise the petty officers and soldiers, the inferior agents of the revolt; but it disfranchises that class of men who had once sworn allegiance to the Constitution in places of trust. This class cannot exceed 45,000 persons. When President Johnson issued his proclamation disfranchising those who had participated in the rebellion, it included no less than fourteen classes, numbering between 250,000 and 280,000 men.

The Eugene Journal says that the snow disappeared from that place and the level country surrounding last Thursday. It still lies on the hills within sight of the town. In 1861-2 the snow covered the ground at Eugene for forty-nine days. The late snow lay on the ground forty-seven days at that place.

Messrs. Cox & Earhart, merchants, of Salem, have on exhibition a remarkable pair of deer's horns. One prong of each antler is turned downwards; for what reason and by what extraordinary force, naturalists may tell, perhaps.

Surgical operations have been performed on a little girl, for croup, and on O. C. Motley, one of the pioneers of Benton county, for a tumor of long standing; in each instance the operation came too late—death soon followed.

Capt. Kesler writes us from New York that he is told by Mr. Elliott that a vessel loaded with material for the Willamette Railroad will leave New York for Portland direct in a short time.

The Gazette says the hungry brother, Van Tassel, is thriving at the expense of the citizens of Corvallis.

Yaquina Bay is sending oysters and fish over to Corvallis.

THE STEAMER COWLITZ.—The owners of the opposition steamer Cowlitz are engaged in putting her machinery into her. She will be ready for service in a few days.

Club Meeting To-Night.

Union men will remember the meeting called for to-night to organize a Club, and we doubt not will attend in large force. Let all come out, and let us begin for an energetic campaign. Let us have a stirring commencement, and from this time forward work with a will. Our friends elsewhere are at work, and we can and must carry Multnomah county by our usual majority.

The hall secured for a Club Room is on the east side of Front street, between Washington and Alder, next door to J. B. Congle's. The meeting to-night will be held at that place, as the hall which was designated as the place of meeting in the call which was published on Saturday, owing to some misunderstanding, could not be secured.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched) in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

NEW YORK BOOT AND SHOE STORE!

To the Public.

OWING TO THE VARIOUS STATEMENTS circulated by some of the Trade, that the Goods now on exhibition in my Show Case are imported, I respectfully announce to the public that all and every pair were MANUFACTURED ON MY PREMISES, and by public patronage I am prepared to produce every style of BOOTS and SHOES, thus proving by the various styles the excellence of my house in the dispatch of orders. One inducement is the lack of Double Profits, a benefit the public should avail themselves of. The want of a First Class Manufactory has long been felt in this city, and to attain this I have combined such talent as will enable me to offer the public superior goods to those heretofore forwarded by the various agencies of our Portland houses.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. FOSTER,	ROBT RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

BURGLARY—ARREST OF TWO OF THE BURGLARS.—About 9 o'clock last evening, the neighborhood of Third and Yamhill streets was startled by hearing several pistol shots fired in quick succession. The occasion of it proved to be substantially as follows: A gang of three or more men had formed a plot to rob the house of Ada Philips on Third street. The Police had for some time been watching the men as suspicious characters and from certain movements had concluded that such or a similar attempt would be made and accordingly had an eye open to business. When the burglars finally went to the house last night, nearly the entire police force was there in advance, two posted in the house and the others on the outside. The inmates had just gone out. The burglars first went to the rear door, which they tried with their tools, the effort continuing for some minutes. Failing to open this door, they went round to the front door and tried that, but with no success, and then returned to the rear door. The officers inside and some of those on the outside could distinctly hear the clicking of the tools in the lock. Failing at both doors, the men next tried several of the windows without success, the blinds being closed, or the sashes fastened on the inside. At length they succeeded in opening the window of a bed-room next in rear of the parlor, and one of them entered. One of the officers was at that moment looking at him through the crack of a closet door of the same room. The man who had entered passed to the bed-room door opening to the main hall, and there stopped, and in a loud whisper said to the others at the window, "Come on, all right." He then passed into the main hall and went forward to the parlor and immediately came out again, as though he was satisfied that was not the room he was looking for. As he stepped back into the hall, Deputy Marshal Sloan stepped out from behind the door at the end of the hall and pointing his pistol at the burglar, commanded him to throw up his hands. The fellow, frightened and comprehending at once that he was caught, complied with the order, when Mr. Sloan sung out to Deputy Bothwell, who was in the closet, "I've got my man—where's yours?" Mr. Sloan supposed at this time that the other man had entered and was then in the bed-room. When he spoke, Mr. Bothwell came quickly out of the closet and fired out of the window, as he instantly saw that the man who had been standing there had taken the alarm. At this instant the other officers, including Marshal Jacobi and Deputies Partlow and McCoy, sprang out of their hiding-places, in time to stop one of the men. The other ran recklessly, paying no attention to the calls to halt or the shots fired after him. Several shots were fired by the officers, but the fellow got away running into 4th st. It could not be ascertained whether he was hit. In less than three minutes, the two men—the one captured in the house and the one outside—were safely locked up in the city jail. The other was pursued until he dodged out of sight in the darkness. The public will probably have a chance to-day to learn who the birds are. We are informed that they have been here during most of the winter, and have long been objects of suspicion to the police.

NEW MAP OF THE PACIFIC COAST.—We are indebted to H. H. Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, for a copy of the new edition of their "Map of the Pacific States." As compared with all former editions it is infinitely superior, and is undoubtedly the best, largest, and most correct map of this coast ever published. It embraces California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Arizona and British Columbia, on a sheet 42 by 56 inches, scale 24 miles to the inch. The engraving is on copper, most of it new, showing all the new counties and towns, lately discovered mines, streams and explored mountains, changes of boundaries, with all the old lines revised so as to exhibit as accurately as a map can, the march of improvement on the Pacific Slope. The data have been compiled from all the official documents, private maps and surveys that have been published relating to any portion of the region embraced, and much new, valuable and interesting information, furnished directly to the compiler by United States and Territorial officers, county surveyors, travelers, and other intelligent persons, is now published to the world for the first time on this new edition. Great care and research have evidently been exercised in its preparation. The publishers say, indeed, that one hundred and ninety published and unpublished maps, general and local, besides other data, were examined in the progress of the work, and during its compilation and revision it was critically examined by over five hundred intelligent gentlemen from different localities. The counties are shown in distinct colors. Several new counties in California, Nevada and Oregon, are for the first time accurately delineated. The map shows the new boundaries of the State of Nevada, with the consequent changes in Arizona and Utah. It gives the important results of the boundary survey between California and Nevada. It gives the altitude of the great mountain peaks in the Sierra Nevada and Coast Range mountains, as determined by the late geological surveys. It shows the railroads constructed and projected, the overland and other great routes; Mullen's military Wagon Road from the Columbia River to the Missouri, and the more important stage routes. Hundreds of new names are given in the present edition; and extensive regions laid down as blank on other maps, are here filled by interesting topography. It will be very safe to say that no other map can compare with this one in fullness of detail with respect to eastern Oregon, southern Idaho, western Montana, northern and south-eastern Nevada, central Arizona, and the eastern part of California. The maps are sold only by subscription, but ample facilities will be afforded for procuring them, and no school, office, or counting room should be without one.

PORTLAND BOOT AND SHOE MANUFACTURING CO.—As stated a few days since, a project is on foot among the boot and shoe makers of this city to organize a manufacturing company. A preliminary meeting was held last week, and a committee appointed to prepare and submit a plan of operations. On Monday evening, another meeting was held to which the committee made a partial report in the form of resolutions. One of the resolutions providing that the organization shall take the name of "The Portland Boot and Shoe Manufacturing Company" was adopted as was also a resolution to appoint a committee to prepare a constitution and code of by-laws. The others were laid on the table for the present, there being some dissimilar views among the makers as to the plan and scope of the organization. Various plans were discussed at length, but none was adopted. The particular plan of operations was reserved for a future meeting, to be held next Monday evening. In accordance with the resolution adopted, a committee of three was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws, upon the adoption of which a permanent organization will be effected. The number of interested persons present was about twenty, representing all but five of the shops in the city. All the boot and shoe dealers will be invited to attend and cooperate with the meeting Monday evening.

A TRIAL AND A JUBILEE.—The Chinamen, Ah Shing and Ah Choy, tried on Monday on the charge of larceny, in taking two dollars and a half from a countrywoman, were acquitted by the jury—a fact which the published report did not show. The indictment was pressed against them by Dr. Jim, who as they allege levied black mail upon them by promises that he would quash the indictment and then failed to do so. Some of the leading merchants who believe the men innocent of any intention to commit a crime, came to their relief and furnished the necessary funds for their defense. Upon their acquittal Monday evening, the Chinamen, friends of the accused, went on a regular Celestial bender, getting glorious on Caucasian whisky and Mongolian opium. The mixed influences of the two cheering beverages produced a degree of jolarity among them quite stunning to barbarian ears, and the Celestial goose hung high till a very late hour of the night.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—The following are the proceedings of yesterday, the 25th:

State vs. Dong Choi and Di Cumb; verdict of the jury, guilty as charged in the indictment, to-wit: Keeping a bawdy house for the purpose of prostitution.

State vs. Mary Phillison; indicted for selling whisky to an Indian; jury empanneled and the case submitted to the jury; N. A. Bybee and C. W. Parrish for defense.

Rosalie F. Rogers vs. Orin H. Rogers; defendant allowed until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock to show cause if any why he should not be punished for contempt in not complying with former order for the payment of $100, to enable the plaintiff to prosecute the suit.

John Cassin admitted a citizen of the United States.

UP THE COLUMBIA RIVER AND BACK.—The steamers Cascade and Jennie Troup went down into the Columbia river yesterday morning, with the view of ascending should the ice be broken up. They succeeded, however, in getting only so far as Proux Landing, two miles below Vancouver. The river was still closed to a point some miles above Vancouver. A telegram was received, however, in the afternoon, to the effect that the ice had broken out, and accordingly, the Cascade will start this morning, again, and without doubt will go through.

UNPAID LETTERS.—The following letters are remaining in the post office at this city, for non-payment of postage: Gen. C. A. Reed, Salem; L. H. Harrington, Victoria; W. F. Welch, Victoria; W. W. Parrish & Co., Albany; M. Fried, Buena Vista; E. R. Stott, Grave Creek, Ogn; Augustus Smith, Damascus, Ogn; S. B. Gilham, Upper Alton; Lt. M. R. Loneks, Camp Steel, I. T.; Mrs. L. E. McDuff, Sacramento; M. Woosieck, Starr's Point; Vender Gates, Salem, Oregon; L. E. Wanless, Salem, Oregon; Messrs. Smith & Wade, Salem, Oregon.

EXPRESS DEPARTURE.—Upon the return of the Cascade yesterday, from the Columbia river, it was concluded to send the express overland, and accordingly, Mr. T. M. Cann, messenger, started with a light express, at half past two P. M. The uncertainty about when the steamer might be able to reach the Cascades, determined the agent here not to delay the express for the steamer.

DEPARTURE FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The bark Occident, Master, will leave early this morning for San Francisco, in tow by the Coach for Astoria, with the following Oregon produce: 79 bbls pork, 266 bbls beef, 12,507 qr sks flour, 1,045 bags wheat, 960 sks middlings, 7 cases and 12 bbls tallow, 7 tons bran, and 10 cords of staves.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS.—Arrived per steamer Alert, from Oregon City, yesterday, 2,259 sks flour, 294 sks wheat, 300 sks feed, 30 bxs apples, 5 hogs, 6 sks bacon, 4 bxs seeds. Per steamer Okanagan from Monticello, 7,100 lbs, 36 sks wheat, 12 dressed hogs, 1 bdle sheep's pelts, 4 sturgeon, 2 coops chickens, 7 beef cattle.

FREIGHT FOR VICTORIA.—The schooner Crosby sailed on Monday for Victoria with the following freight: 1,100 qr sks flour, 561 sks bran, 110 sks chopped feed, 300 sks middlings and 5 bales hay. Beside the above, she carries a considerable amount of unspecified merchandise.

APPLES IN SAN FRANCISCO MARKET.—The latest news concerning the apple market, by the steamer's papers, is contained in the Bulletin of the 21st. It says: "There is still an absence of Oregon apples in the market. California descriptions are jobbing at $2@$4."

THEATER CHANGED HANDS.—Mr. M. G. Morgan, Manager of the Olympic Theater, has conveyed his interest to Joe Dolevan, who will hereafter have the management. As heretofore, the company will appear every night in songs, dances, farces and negro eccentricities.

APPLES SHIPPED PER AJAX.—We learned yesterday that our item of yesterday morning did not state the whole number of boxes of apples shipped by the steamship Ajax. The shipment consisted of 6,800 boxes instead of 3,400, as then stated.

FROM MONTICELLO.—The Okanagan arrived at half past eight last evening, from Monticello, with the Puget Sound mails and thirty-five passengers. She reports no news.

The members of the congregation Beth Israel are kindly requested to meet at the Synagogue, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

"OH YES! OH YES! OH YES!" Attention, everybody. In order to make room for our spring stock of goods from New York, we will sell our extensive stock of clothing, regardless of cost for the next thirty days. Our object not being the cost of the goods so much as the CASH MONISH FOR THE FREIGHT. Wm. Currier & Co., 103, Front street.

AUCTION.—Falk & Kraemer sell, on Friday next, a large and desirable lot of furniture of a private family, on Salmon street. See advertisement.

RECEIVED EX CONTINENTAL.—Another lot of Ladies' Shoes and Gaiters; also, Men's Boots and Shoes, at Holmes & Sunderland's.

NOTICE TO THE LADIES.—Mr. B. Concleman, the accredited traveling agent for the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Co., is on a visit to Portland and vicinity, and would be happy to receive orders from any and all ladies who may desire attention to their Sewing Machines, either for instruction, adjustment, or any information pertaining thereto. An excellent opportunity is offered to ladies who desire to purchase one of these machines. Mr. Concleman may be addressed or conferred with, for a few days, at the Grover & Baker Agency, W. Currier & Co., 103 Front street.

The Pain Killer Abroad.

The following correspondence will show something of the estimation in which Perry Davis' Pain Killer is held on the shores of the Mediterranean. It is not surprising that a medicine that receives such testimonials as this from abroad, should find well sustained and increasing appreciation at home.

U. S. CONSULATE, Tunis, Dec. 27, 1865.

To the Proprietors of Davis' Pain Killer, Providence, R. I.—Gentlemen:—The enclosed has just been received from my friend Tulin, late Consul General of Norway and Sweden and of Prussia in this place. No comment is needed. Truly yours, AMOS PERRY.

GENOA, December 16, 1865.

Dear Sir:—Accept thanks for this third supply of Davis' "Pain Killer." This medicine has often relieved me of serious indisposition, and I would not on any account consent to be without it both for myself and my family.

I have recommended it to my late colleagues and friends in Tunis and Genoa, and at my request one of the largest druggists in this city has sent an order to New York to meet the demand in this place.

Yours truly, G. A. TULIN,
Ex-Consul Gen'l of Sweden, Norway & Prussia in Tunis.

DR. C. W. COOL,
DENTIST.

THOSE WHO DESIRE FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE. The nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has received, December 31, 1867, a patent from the United States Patent Office. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his office. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

BUCHU.

(From Dispensatory of the United States.)

DIOSMA CRENATA - - - - - - BUCHU LEAVES.

Properties.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

Medical Properties and Uses.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs—such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-wetting in children.

In Affections Peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa or Whites.

Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu has cured every case of DIABETES in which it has been given, Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick Dust Deposit and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for Enfeebled and Delicate Constitutions, of both Sexes, attended with the following symptoms:—Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

Is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and Cures all Diseases Caused by Habits of Dissipation, Excesses and Imprudences in Life, Impurities of the Blood, &c., superseding Copaiba in affections for which it is used, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleets of long standing, and Syphilitic Affections. In these diseases used in connection with HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH.

THE MUTUAL DOES A CASH BUSINESS ONLY AND HAS NO NOTES!

What a Note Company says!

"We recommend the CASH plan as the best mode of Insurance. Now what we have after a few years' EXPERIENCE of the note plan." The Charter Oak Life Insurance Co. (a note Company.)

EXPERIENCE has taught business men that CREDITS must be paid for.

IN CASH COMPANIES. The first payment is the largest; every succeeding year reduces the premium or increases the policy, at the option of the insured. Past records of the Mutual prove that in 15 years their payment ceases, but DIVIDENDS continue for life.

IN NOTE COMPANIES. The first payment is the smallest. Interest on Notes swallow Dividends and increase the interest on the notes.

OBSERVE. Notes must be paid for by higher rates and increased premiums.

DIVIDENDS.—The Mutual declares Dividends the first and every successive year from the date of a policy holders' insurance. N. B. The public should ascertain from other Insurance Companies if Dividends are declared annually from the start, or annually 4 YEARS AFTER insurance.

RATES in The Mutual are Lower than in any other Company doing business on the Pacific Coast, and are considerably lower than in any Note Company.

EVERY ADVANTAGE is offered by The Mutual—(excepting notes) that other Insurance Companies can offer.

THE MUTUAL
IS THE OLDEST AND LARGEST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers;
Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, lowness of spirits, and fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful Invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

The Naturalization Question British Subjects vs American Citizens

[From the London Times Jan 16.]

We admit that very strong reasons [illegible] alleged for a modification of existing [illegible] and that it would be quite impossible to push the principle of indefeasible allegiance to its extreme consequences. In ancient times the Sovereign not only claimed [illegible] the right of forbidding subjects to leave the realm and of recalling them at pleasure.

The maxim "nemo potest exuere patriam" was consistent with these primitive [illegible] the persons who might be injuriously affected by it were too few to need special consideration. The vast emigration of recent years has changed all the conditions upon which its application depended, and rendered its maintenance as burdensome to the sovereign as it is to the subject. A single illustration will suffice to put this in a clear light. If persons born in the United Kingdom owe a lifelong allegiance to her Majesty, it follows that they possess an equally durable title to her protection. Yet it cannot for a moment be supposed that our Government could or would attempt to watch over the interests of Irishmen permanently domiciled in the United States and perhaps engaged in plotting against their native country. It is well known that great discretion was necessary in dealing with the numerous claims of natural born Englishmen resident in America for exemption from conscription during the civil war, and that our Minister judiciously abstained from interfering on behalf of those who had previously manifested their intention of becoming American citizens. Passages may indeed be quoted from treatises on constitutional law to show that a sovereign's obligations are not co-extensive with those of a subject, but such distinctions will not stand the test of justice, common sense, or national policy. We cannot hold the American Fenians responsible, as subjects, for acts of conspiracy in America and yet refuse them whatever privileges may belong to that character.

Let us once more remind our readers that no concession is contemplated, except in respect of natural-born British subjects who now commit offenses against our law in the United States, and afterwards to return to Great Britain and Ireland. The jurisdiction of our courts over all offences committed on British territory, either by natives or foreigners, is absolute, and a foreigner may be convicted of treason as well as an Englishman. The doubt, and the only doubt, is whether a natural-born subject, having deliberately changed his country and formally renounced his allegiance, ought not to be placed on the same footing with foreigners as regards his proceedings on a foreign soil. At present there is no method prescribed by the law of England, or we believe, of any other State, whereby allegiance can be fully renounced for this purpose.

* * * No State has a right to demand that its subjects should be tried by jury at all, the system of trial by jury being unknown to international law, and not yet adopted by the municipal law of all or nearly all, civilized nations. The jury "de medietate" is a purely English institution, established in an age of comparative barbarism, for the special benefit of persons ignorant of our language, and associated with oppressive disabilities of foreign merchants. We may safely predict that no complaint so unreasonable will be made by the American Government, and that if any reasonable complaint should be made it will be entertained by Lord Stanley in a conciliatory spirit. We have no desire or occasion to punish American Fenians for what they may do in the United States, and no power of so punishing them until they land in the United Kingdom. When they come to Ireland they may be arrested before the commission of an overt act for treason or felony. These safeguards are quite sufficient for the maintenance of public order, but if they should prove insufficient, this country will shrink from no sacrifice that may be required to strengthen them. If the queen's Government is unable to put down Fenianism, it is unworthy to rule Ireland, and they greatly mistake our national character who suppose that we value our existence as a United Kingdom less highly than America values her Federal Union. We have nothing to gain by retaining the nominal allegiance of a single Irishman who prefers a republic to a monarchy, but it is the paramount duty of a Government to protect its loyal subjects, at any cost, against lawless filibusters whether native or foreign.

Vallandigham.

The Cincinnati Commercial does up Vallandigham as follows:

Poor Vallandigham has dragged himself like a wounded stag, to his lair in Dayton, to undergo the affliction of his discomfiture. Others may wear serene and smiling countenances, when defeated and subjected to the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune and the base man's contumely, but Vallandigham is a person in earnest. He loves and hates with intensity, concentrating his love upon himself and hating all who do not approve and uphold him. His ambition to be a Senator of the United States did not dawn in October last. He was looking about Columbus to see what the chances were when Pugh was elected, and he is a person steadfast in his purposes. It was manifest from the moment it appeared that the Democracy had carried the Legislature, that they would give their attention to the cultivation of expediency rather than the vindication of principle. Vallandigham refused to see it, however, and made a fight that was more bitter and aggravating because it was hopeless. Knowing himself to be the truest exponent of his party and to possess a fiber of intellect keener and higher strung than the leaders that have been preferred to him, and to have personal power over the masses of his party greater than is possessed by any other man in the State, he could but resent the treatment that he has received, placing a premium upon the feebler qualities of men less pronounced than himself, and fixing upon honesty the political sepulchral penalty of unavailability. Thurman and Pendleton are the Democratic heroes of the hour. The former has his bird in his hand, and rather a plump and comely bird too. The latter has one of magnificent flavor and plumage in the bush. Wherever they appear before the Democracy, they are greeted with stunning approbation. Thurman is feted and huzzahed in his outgoings and his incomings. Pendleton's name, in a Democratic convention, kindles a flame of rapture in the Democratic bosom, and the multitude rend their throats. But Vallandigham, with diminished proportions, his comb cut and his tail feathers pulled out, roosts low on a sour apple tree, and it is a question whether his faded eyes would kindle even to behold the dawn of the great hereafter of the Democracy that he so often prophecied. We regret, of course, that the exigencies of the subject should compel us to speak in one article of a person as a wounded stag, and as a dilapidated rooster, and we can only offer in palliation of the offence that we have many times been constrained to hold our sense of rhetorical propriety as second to the emergency of events.

A Singular Suicide—A Woman Prepares Herself for Burial

[From the Easton Pa., Free Press.

Early on Saturday morning the new occupants of the Lent Lenape Hotel, Pa., [illegible] were startled to hear that Mrs. [illegible] Smith, [illegible] burgh, who came to the hotel last [illegible] had been found dead in her bed. [illegible] about [illegible] a gentle [illegible] was [illegible] leading to the bar [illegible] Mr. Bennett answered it, he found a young lady well dressed, and presenting every appearance of respectability, asking for board, "about a week." Mr. Bennett, although doubtful whether he could accommodate her so long, admitted her, and gave her room No. 21, which she occupied until death. During her stay there were no signs which would [illegible] attention, but the young stranger lady remained in her room busy sewing. Friday she was seen to pass out with [illegible] but [illegible] in her [illegible] but [illegible] meal time [illegible] was [illegible] and [illegible] enjoyed a hearty supper. [illegible] meal over all repaired [illegible] respective [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] who was [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] taken back and [illegible] This he would [illegible] but [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] sitting room and then she returned [illegible] In the morning the clerk [illegible] rapping at the [illegible] room. There he saw Mrs. Smith [illegible] nothing disfigured excepting [illegible] mouth and eyes [illegible] as if ready to speak. There she lay, a [illegible] with neither life nor feeling. Her hair was neatly combed, face and hands cleanly washed, and the water remained in the bowl with which she had prepared herself for the tomb. She wore a fine brown delaine walking dress and on her feet were finely worked gaiter boots never before worn. An empty glass lay upon the stand and three papers, which had contained the poison. The coroner was summoned, who examined her effects. The trunk was well filled, and the many pictures of persons known to some around here with the letters, gave some traces of her history. She had been married to a man, but not living in that blissful two-in-one state which makes marriage happy, they separated and Mrs. Smith [illegible] to the Indian Queen House at Stroudsburg, remained there until last Tuesday, when she came to [illegible]burg.

The body was taken in charge by the authorities to await the recognition of some of her friends.

Weed and Bennett.—Thurlow Weed publishes in the New York Commercial Advertiser the following personal reminiscence:

One might think that its own personal experience would long since have convinced the Herald of the folly and danger of such a course [breeding disunion]. When in 1861, the storm burst which it had so long evoked and stirred up, the Herald was one of the first to feel its effect. On that eventful April night of 1861 the infuriated populace stood for hours around the office, only waiting for a leader to begin the work of sacking it. Groans, hoots and yells were interspersed with cries for the secession flag, whose possession had never been denied by the Herald to this day. The proprietor fled from the building in alarm and taking refuge in the Ledger office, trembled from head to foot as he appealed to Bonner to tell him what to do. "Change square about in tomorrow's issue and support the Government and the Union," was the advice given. From there he drove away in a close carriage to Washington Heights. Does Bennett wish for a revival of these scenes and experiences?

The debt of New York city is forty three millions of dollars.

Brazil anticipates this year the largest harvest of coffee ever gathered.

UNION COUNTY CONVENTION.

A Union County Convention for Multnomah county will be held at the Court House in the City of Portland on Saturday, the 7th day of March, A. D. 1868, for the purpose of electing twelve delegates to the Union State Convention to be held at Salem on the 24th day of March, 1868.

All voters in the several Precincts in said County who during the late rebellion, were in sympathy with the Union and in favor of the war for the maintenance of our Nationality, and who are willing to aid the Union party by their support, are requested to meet at their respective places of voting, on the 29th day of February, 1868, to select delegates to attend said County Convention, based upon the Union vote for Governor at the June election A. H. W. SHIPLEY'S PACIFIC TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

This new wheel, of which the above is an illustration, has

FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS,

USES THREE-FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE,

Giving at least Twenty per cent more Power than any other Wheel ever invented.

Figure 1 is an axial section of case with wheel inclosed, and illustrates the arrangements for applying the water through a series of openings in the periphery of the case direct upon the wheel by fixed guides. Pivoted gates extend inward toward the opening which are between their inner ends and when open, fit closely against the guides, thus offering no obstruction to the inward flow of water. The gates are opened and closed by a hand and ratchet wheel, upon which operates a rack segment, on a ring which extends entirely around the top of the case, partially revolving the ring from different points. The revolving of the ring opens or closes the gates by means of connecting rods.

Figure 2, a perspective view shows the three sets of periphery and the radial set of buckets. The peculiar construction is such that it uses three fourths of the water twice—something never before achieved in any water wheel. The buckets are very shallow, and confine the water to the outer diameter of the wheel. After the water exerts all the power that can be obtained on three sets of well arranged periphery buckets, it passes to and is again used upon the radial set, giving an additional power [illegible] an increased velocity and steadiness [illegible] truly wonderful.

Aware that the new principles of this invention may [illegible] the reader [illegible] that seeing the wheel work is the most certain way of removing skepticism. He will warrant every wheel to perform all [illegible] claims for it. By its use [illegible] water powers may be again made the means of [illegible] to the employment and wealth of the country.

Manufacture of the Wheel.

The Inventor has made arrangement with the WILLAMETTE IRON WORKS, Portland, for the manufacture of these Wheels.

Will receive prompt attention.

☞ Send for Illustrated Descriptive Circulars, and Price Lists.

Mr. H. W. Shipley, Sir: In reply to your inquiry as to how I like your Pacific Turbine Wheel, I have to say that I have used one over [illegible] three Leffel wheels—10, 12 and 11 [illegible] in diameters. When I substituted your 15 inch wheel for the 13 inch Leffel wheel, though unfinished it worked the machinery like a top, using [illegible] water per minute more than the 13 inch Leffel. At your request I subsequently took your wheel out that it might be finished, and then I put in a 15 inch Leffel, but it gave no better power than yours while it used 52 cubic feet more water per minute. After some months, I replaced your wheel and am still using it, with the most satisfactory results. I have subjected it to some severe tests. For instance, while running the circular saw in a log which squared 15 inches, I added the planer with a [illegible] inch knife, cutting from one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch [illegible] with [illegible] the least slacking the speed. After thorough tests of both wheels, I am satisfied that your wheel [illegible] [illegible]

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the ONE destined by its intrinsic merit to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure, but is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by the surprising curative powers of

and with one accord give it their unqualified approbation. We now address ourselves to all who are unacquainted with this, the greatest Panacea of the age for the healing of all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, assuring you that has cured thousands and it will cure YOU if you try it.

This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste, soothing, healing and strengthening in its effects, entirely free from all poisonous or deleterious drugs, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION [illegible] ALL CASES FREE

 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED

 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRECY MAINTAINED

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may asperse my motive, but the desire to point out to those who suffer, the anguish and decay, the true cause of their affliction, is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How many are tortured [illegible] terrible demon of Seminal Weakness [illegible] one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to the treatment can tell. But its presence can be detected by the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs, languid feelings, loss of muscular power, nervousness, irritability, cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot head; symptoms of consumption, short breath, flushings of the face, aversion to society, confusion of the mind, loss of memory, nightly emissions, colorless, slight discharges upon the least excitement, trembling, palpitation of the heart, irregular appetite, variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the various symptoms enumerated above, pause to consider. The present is the golden moment in which you may secure health and happiness. You may feel strong now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse even in the most scant manner, you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless abject being. It is not a disease that declares itself at once. Therein lies its greatest danger, for while the patient is being treated for some affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive functions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, Seminal Weakness.

See in the bent form and languishing steps, the poor victim of the fascinating vice. Mark the course of the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye. Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms. At first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually into a great disinclination to pursue his regular business. The mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights [illegible] days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to assume [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your fondest hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a deplorable [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible] Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepit and degenerate. This is applicable to both sexes, whether married or single, and to all times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of this terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application secure to yourself the only hope of health and happiness. The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, when [illegible] time, always guaranteed and full and proper vigor restored.

The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute, the number of cases of Venereal that have been treated show a record unsurpassed by any [illegible] in the world, and the success that has invariably [illegible] the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs, shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for, but actually dangerous, for it is a thoroughly established medical principle that those poisonous drugs, by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long duration, without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether in doors or without. The diet need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed, or no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with [illegible] and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry [illegible] be: Where is there a physician competent to advise [illegible] relief and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to their confidence of the community? The Doctor understands how to positively meet every [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all [illegible] both medically and surgically, not in a superficial [illegible] but in a thorough manner, as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous or designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble [illegible] in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. [illegible] consultation by letter or otherwise free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided when desired, where [illegible] be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor, and the most skillful and and faithful nurse.

To Correspondents.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor meet the expense of a visit to the city. To such he [illegible] that a plain statement of the symptoms and [illegible] bearing upon the complaint will enable him to [illegible] for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor and will be treated with the utmost confidence and either be returned or destroyed.
